

Dearborn, Michigan, that's my plan
Dingbat, democrat minivan
Henry Ford couldn't hold his tongue
Changed the world for everyone

But it's not my turn
Not my concern
Can't believe I put you through it
Everyone watched me do it
Now it seems like you knew it
I can't be that
I can't be that man

Brand-new medicine, crack cocaine
Eggs in a frying pan, that's my brain
Ten-foot swell on the World-Wide Web
Kids log on and they wind up dead

But it's not my turn
Not my concern
Just now the girl she's showing
Might be the family's growing
No man can be all-knowing
Could I be that?
I could be that man

I think I know myself
I know myself too well
I think I know myself
I know myself too well
I think I know myself
I know myself too well
I think I know myself
I know myself too well
I think I know myself
I know myself too well
I think I know myself
I know myself too well
I think I know myself
I know myself too well
