Alone Again

Bakar

On my own, dyin' to tell you things
I couldn't tell myself, I held it all within
On my own, dyin' to tell you things
I couldn't tell myself, I held it all within
Could you hold my head while I hold my breath?
'Til this feeling's numb, 'til there ain't nothin' left
Could you steal my lungs? Could you be my chest?
'Til the feeling's gone, 'til the feeling's dead
Could you hold my head while I hold my breath?
'Til the feeling's numb, 'til there ain't nothin' left
Could you steal my lungs? Will you be my chest?
'Til the feeling's gone, 'til the feeling's dead

When you find your feet, when you find your peace
You want me to leave, I just wanna know
Why tears don't dry on their own
When you found receipts, when you found deceit
When you tried to cheat, I don't wanna know
My tears don't dry on their own, I'm all alone

I been home alone (Been home alone)
Feelings still strong (Feelings still strong)
Been a lost soul (Been a lost soul)
Ever since you went ghost, rode off on your white horse
Show me your thoughts, now the ball's in your court
Serve me up like Serena, girl
Play me in the arenas, in front of all your people, yeah
Play me like I'm Venus, so they can see your genius, yeah
Plant me my seed, blood on my leaves
Eye for an eye, it's been a long night
Show me your demons

When you find your feet, when you find your peace
You want me to leave, I just wanna know
Why tears don't dry on their own
When you found receipts, when you found deceit
When you tried to cheat, I don't wanna know
My tears don't dry on their own, I'm all alone

On my own, dyin' to tell you things
I couldn't tell myself, I held it all within, yeah
