

WAR CRY

Baker Boy

I'm the baddest
Vigilante in demand
I gotta convert this
Feeling the balance in my hands
So divisive
I'm guilty, then I'm innocent
By day you want this
At night you think I'm stealing it
Life is a breakpoint
But I'll never surrender
I crash the party like Ash Barty
At Wimbledon, front and centre
Of course
For sure, I leave it on the floor
All is fair in love and war
What are we really fighting for
If we don't leave hate at the door?
I bring a country together
Still it tears me apart
No blue and white on my face
But I have a brave heart
I put everything on the line for my family while I'm breathing
You could take my life
You'll never take my freedom

Have you ever heard a war cry? yeah yeah
Have you ever heard a war cry? yeah yeah
This is a cry for war
Know what you're fighting for
Pay my dues
You ready to move
Got nothing to lose
This is a cry for war
Leave it out on the floor
You mustn't know what you came here for
I already know what I'm fighting for

Open my eyes, it's late
Lately I been out of form
Gotta stay up on my game, ah
Gladiators with the horns
I look and I look, but I lost intuition
Inferno inside of me, I'm on a mission
I work up a sweat inside the colosseum
I gotta lotta villains in the coalition, huu!
You holding the trophy like I was anybody
You dominate all, except I'm not anybody
And if it is really war you want everybody
Living without a doubt
A fight is whatcha getting from me

I've been fighting before our struggle was trending
I'm a descendant from my Yolju ancestors
I fight for my mob in real life, not an online mention
It's like you're forgetting
My thick skin is black 365 24/7
Let that sink in

Like a spear in your skin
That's payback
Forgetting your past
Gets you lost in the future with no way back
Yeah, I'm laid back
But I've been dying for my joy
Still blak, still deadly
I'm the same Baker Boy

Have you ever heard a war cry? yeah yeah
Have you ever heard a war cry? yeah yeah
This is a cry for war
Know what you're fighting for
Pay my dues
You ready to move
Got nothing to lose
This is a cry for war
Leave it out on the floor
You mustn't know what you came here for
I already know what I'm fighting for

Have you ever heard a war cry? yeah yeah
Have you ever heard a war cry? yeah yeah
This is a cry for war
Leave it out on the floor
You mustn't know what you came here for
I already know what I'm fighting for
