

Before the Dawn

Balflare

In the bewitching time of night
Turns into an urban blight
Appearing from the murky mist
Full of allurements

Gaily attracting avenue
Passing each other with stories
Drowning there hears in sorrow
For a moment of delight

Give me the spotlight
Just for now
I wanna rock 'n roll tonight
Who cares if they're a bunch of lies

Playing simultaneously
A tune of chaos and rejoice
A never ending concerto
Resounds again tonight

Give me the melody
Just for now
I wanna dance in the twilight
Even though it's just an illusion

When the magic is gone
But sounds never ending
Into the night
Till the day comes again
And you stay with the flow
Are you ready to follow
The beat of the night to the end
Get it on
