

Sate the Heart

Balflare

Ancient times in somewhere
The sky is got into the black
The black eye child from universe
Plants in a place the seeds of fruits

Don't enter the forest
You will lose the way
Listening to the singing
Of the offspring of unknown

Now the forbidden fruit is cut to eat easily
The knife is stabbed deep into the heart of cain

In the twilight of the god
The sacred water (fall) from the sky
The twinkling shining from the space
The feast starts at this time
Until the god awakens again
The slaves of hop are free from the chain
The twinkling shining from the space
The feast starts at this time

In the night of yesterday
The river was reflecting
The shadow of buildings
And neon lights and the moon
You knock the dirty door

Do not open the door of hell
You will get lost yourself
Listening to the singing
Of the viking's chorus from the north

Now the forbidden fruits
In the twilight

Now the forbidden fruits
In the twilight
