

I feel the frozen air
And it pierces me
The wind tells me that the White world's ending
Will come right away

See the road
Where you have walked up
Unlike the scenery
That you've seen before

Even when the day comes
But i know i will
Never say good-bye
Cuz we are bonded forever
The snow falls in spring
The wind carries
Scattering petals
And new ones
will be back again

Sunlight in the Morning of departure
Begins the journey
Into the Distant sky

See the road
Where you have walked up
Unlike the scenery
That you've seen before

Even when the day comes
But i know i will
Never say good-bye
Cuz we are bonded forever
The snow falls in spring
The wind carries
Scattering petals
And new ones
will be back again
