

Priceless

Ballyhoo!

jealousy has often plagued my mind reality, we all get it sometimes i cant believe i let you run my life no good for me, i'm just doin whats right

the scars they will remain
and you will never change
and i just dont know how to feel
to know what you believe and now you made me see that there's more for me i can't explain how my thought patterns work but all this pain it just makes it much worse i hesitate to make you understand its true they say, this castle's made of sand
