

Changes

Balthazar

I'm not the man for changes
What does it mean to you?
I tried to change the obvious
But somehow I just never do

You think that I'm unsettled
But actually I don't think that I am
Too many old bad habits
Still I wouldn't wanna change a thing

It goes on and on and on and on and on
Wanna love you like I've never loved no one
Watch the time as it moves on and on
And somehow that can turn me on

I know that things could be better
Sometimes it feels we're cursed
But if I imagine those changes
Well, somehow they would make it worse, yeah

You say I'm always looking for something, babe
And it may be, yes, that I am
But that doesn't mean that I would Ever want to change a thing

It goes on and on and on and on and on
Wanna love you like I've never loved no one
Watch the time as it moves on and on
And somehow that can turn me on
Yeah, changes...

It goes on and on and on and on and on
Wanna love you like I've never loved no one
Watch the time as it moves on and on
Somehow that can turn me on

Yeah, changes...
Just take me as I am...

All these changes
Won't change us, honey
Or maybe I just hope they won't /x6
