

Nightshift

Balu Brigada

(No way)

Listen to Britpop, terrible speakers
Blood on my face and dirt on my sneakers
Morning is so soon, maybe I'll see ya
Woke up in the same room, what are the chances?
It's a twisted love affair, I'm always here and you're over there
But I like having this cross to bare, it's only fair

But you're such a perfect girl and I don't know what you've heard
But I'm sure you've figured out that I'm not good in this world
'Cause I hurt you baby
Pull your walls apart 'cause I hurt you, baby

(No way)

I've been busy working on the nightshift
I know that it's testing on your patience
I know that you really wanna make it work
Girl you're working too hard, we're working too hard
We're working too hard, we're trying too hard
Spendin' every weekend on your arm
I don't think you hate to be alone
Feeling like you're living on your own, oh no
Girl you're working too hard, we're working too hard
We're working too hard, we're trying too hard

Checkin' my wrist now, where did the time go?
Wait on my payday, stay on the down low
You want it your way, making me spiral
Getting so lonely, you're making it viral
Such a twisted love affair, I could slow down 'cause I came prepared
But I like having this cross to bare, I mean, it's only fair

But you're such a perfect girl and I don't know what you've heard
But I'm sure you've figured out that I'm not good in this world
'Cause I hurt you baby
Taking your walls apart 'cause I hurt you, baby

I've been busy working on the nightshift
I know that it's testing on your patience
I know that you really wanna make it work
Girl you're working too hard, we're working too hard
We're working too hard, we're trying too hard
Spendin' every weekend on your arm
I don't think you hate to be alone
Feeling like you're living on your own, oh no
Girl you're working too hard, we're working too hard
We're working too hard, we're trying too hard

And I try to get close to you, oh
But shouldn't it be easier?
I'm tryna make it easier
I'm tryna make it easy

I've been busy working on the nightshift
I know that it's testing on your patience
I know that you really wanna make it work
Girl you're working too hard, we're working too hard

We're working too hard, we're tryin' too hard
Spendin' every weekend on your arm, oh yeah
I don't think you hate to be alone, oh yeah
Feeling like you're living on your own, oh no
Girl you're working too hard, we're working too hard
We're working too hard, we're trying too hard
