

The Question

Balu Brigada

Moonbeaming in the parking lot
The vampires link up in the corridors
Said that she knows a spot
We can get a little late night ambience

Comes from a slower town
Where there's not a lot of options to go around
But she could never settle down, no
So here we are and now I'm

Feeling the tension I make an impression
She asks me the question and I said

I guess it depends
Will you love me till the end
And when all the lights go out
Will you turn them on again
Cos I don't need a friend
I got enough of them
If I tell you what I want
Then you won't have to pretend
Cos I don't need a friend

Moved to the city when you found a job
The work kinda sucks but it pays a lot
The money came in and you spent it all
On a 1 bedroom in a shady spot, yeah

Asked why I always hang around so late
Well you never see the sun here anyway
And the air's thick enough for the sky to scrape
You started laughing now I'm

Feeling the tension I make an impression
She asks me the question and I said

I guess it depends
Will you love me till the end
And when all the lights go out
Will you turn them on again
Cos I don't need a friend
I got enough of them
If I tell you what I want
Then you won't have to pretend
Cos I don't need a friend

Cos I don't need a friend
