

Weekend

Balu Brigada

You never got your own ring
But you're part of the club
Got your D's and your C's
You're coping with the mood swings
But you're covered in smoke, from your head to your knees

You never finished highschool
Cause you're low-fi, and you didn't really get it
And nothing ever goes wrong
When you're stuck in the city, every second, every minute, so...

I guess you could stay for the weekend
I don't mind just keep it a secret
You should know that I like to sleep in
I don't smoke unless I've been drinking
You like to pretend like you're 15
That way you can guess what I'm thinking
I think you should stay for the weekend
I don't mind just keep it a secret

There's talking in the back-row
'Cause you're 6 months gone and you're ankle's looking swollen
Your ski-boot escudo
You know it drives good but the traffic's hardly crawling

You never the red light
And I'm under your thumb
I swear you're trying to kill me
Waters singing all night
When you're comfortably numb, it's a status not a feeling, so...

I guess you could stay for the weekend
I don't mind just keep it a secret
You should know that I like to sleep in
I don't smoke unless I've been drinking
You like to pretend like you're 15
That way you can guess what I'm thinking
I think you should stay for the weekend
I don't mind just keep it a secret

I think you should, I think you should
I think you should, I think you should Stay...
I think you should, I think you should
I guess, I guess, I guess, I guess

I guess you could stay for the weekend
I guess you could stay for the weekend
I don't mind just keep it a secret
You should know that I like to sleep in
I don't smoke unless I've been drinking
You like to pretend like you're 15
That way you can guess what I'm thinking
I think you should stay for the weekend
I don't mind just keep it a secret
