Believing in the truth, I faced my eyes
Become deeper and blue
Though my eyes are closed, there's something there
My heart is blue
I'll never forget
It is burned in my hand and burned in my mind
Though my eyes are closed, something still remains
My heart is blue

Blue
So I just cannot forget
That pain and sorrow
The only thing
I wonder, what's on the other side

Everything I saw in my blue eyes

But, I can't face my fear and truth My eyes are blue You can't face my eyes of blue My heart is blue

My eyes pass through your heart Never let you go My eyes are blue, sadness and chaos My heart is deeper and blue Never let it go My eyes are true madness and chaos
