When I dreamed of all the lonely places, we've never been that far

We hide it just behind bars

Fought, embraced, didn't give a toss bout what they thought of us

We lived our lives at the stars

And in those hours of darkness you were standing next to me

Guess that made it worth while

Struggle for eternal fate, we always were on time

The thing to pack were our smiles

And I know we did intend to

Scream and make our way right out of here

No locks could hold us here

Cause crying doesn't help and the light just made us feel
