

X-Ray the Candy

Bambix

Happy birthday to us all
We just broke another wall
In that picture, did we see
What we actually should be?
We tell stories of long gone
Step by step, about everyone
Who we love and who we hate

All we want is sympathy and apathy
Just for start
What language does the wind speak
What country brings the rai
Even the weather has it's depressions

"Well, it's psychic, it's all inside
Scream and shout, never hide
Take slow but do it fast
The sooner you'll forget the past"

Is it really necessary to x-ray the candy?

"Just lie down and open up
I'll try to check you up
Just relax and please go on
I'll tell you what went wrong
You've got one nose and two ears
A tongue that tells about your fears"
I'm surprised, it's clear to see that this is me

And all I want is happiness and steadiness
From now on
What colour does the lighting have
When will the storm begin
Even the weather has it's depressions

"Time is up, 'till next week
Then there's more time for you to speak
Take your pills, it's good for you
It leads you to another view"

Is it really necessary to x-ray the candy?
