Bamboo

Quit your pounding at my door
I've been having such a long day
Why you giving me such a hard time
Can we play nice

Forget what I said
Lets sit and tune out the rest of the world
They've no idea how all the parts seem to work
Ain't it all divine

Somewhere over this great divide
I look forward to
That second when we cross
These imaginary lines
Because today's like any other day
It starts with a kiss then it ends then it spins it around
Spins it around and around

I see you're starting to get bored
Don't you leave before the curtain call
Lions and witches
We're not in Kansas anymore
And that's a good thing

Let's take the necessary steps to
Take this forward
Yet our story need no preface
And these chapters bear no weight
They're simply ordinary
It's all about the little things...
So 3 steps backwards to

Somewhere
Somewhere
Somewhere
Somewhere

Somewhere over this great divide
I look forward to
That second when we cross
These imaginary lines
Because today's like any other day
It starts with a kiss then it ends then it spins it around

Spins it around and around
Spins us around and around
