

A Letter Carved in Stone

Bang Gang

The two of us
Synchronized
In unison
We look into the light
It's keeping us alive

The two of us
Dressed in white
Hand in hand
We leave ourselves behind
Buried in the sand

I can, I can feel your heartache
Underneath the surface
I can feel it stirring
It's quiet and contagious
I can hear your breathing
Every single motion
The tinycast of gestures
The bliss and the harm

The two of us

A universe
Fluctuate
Our letter carved in stone
We vanish in the ground

The one time
One time you surrendered
We married in the sunshine
I held you with my body
I realized the hard way
I never had you wholly
I never found a reason
To ever find you faulty

If you never knew
How do you know it wasn't always
If you never knew
How do you know it wasn't always
