Banks Arcade

I'm just a mad man
With the right set of keys
To open up all the wrong doors
I want love
I want power
The man the of the hour
For 25 hours a day
I'm just waiting to let you down
Please don't obsess or I'll start slipping away
It's the noise of the crowd that keeps me
Selling you out
It's all part of the game

You think you want me but I've changed
I'm too sick from chasing fame
But I'd like you to stay tonight
Help me to save tonight
Please just walk away
Safe to fight another day
I don't want you to stay tonight
But you could change my mind

But you could change my mind

Never learned my lesson
If you want it go and get it
You might find yourself in heaven
Even if it's for a second
That's enough

I can taste your blood

Mix it up
Mix it up
With the sound of our downfall baby
Rip the stitches out
This is my fault maybe
I'm wrong
But I want the pleasure and I want the pain
Taste of my tongue and then spit in my face
Give me your love and then
Take it away

I want the high and the low
And the take this shit slow
And the money and murder
The blood on my clothes
The feeling obsessive in love and afraid

You think you want me but I've changed
I'm too sick from chasing fame
But I'd like you to stay tonight
Help me to save tonight
Please just walk away
I don't want you to stay tonight
But you could change my mind

I don't want you to stay tonight
