

Always Yours

BANNERS

Oh, the city's sleeping
Every street light's calling out your name
Oh, I must be dreaming
Even though I'm wide awake
Could've sworn I saw your face

Heartbeats spin the world around
Tall ships and sunsets touch the ground
Straight lines, they circle back to you

'Cause I'm always yours
I'm always yours
Though we kiss into the distance
How could oceans come between us?
And when the lighthouse fires feel a world away
Then you just have to remember
That the dark won't last forever
I'm always yours

Lost in lonely timezones
In the middle of my nights you're waking up
It feels like every road sign is a language I don't know
Takes me far away from home

Heartbeats spin the world around
Tall ships and sunsets touch the ground
Straight lines, they circle back to you

'Cause I'm always yours
I'm always yours
Though we kiss into the distance
How could oceans come between us?
And when the lighthouse fires feel a world away
Then you just have to remember
That the dark won't last forever
'Cause I'm always yours
I'm always yours

And when the lighthouse fires feel a world away
Then you just have to remember
That the dark won't last forever

'Cause I'm always yours
I'm always yours
'Cause the distance is only distance
How could oceans come between us?
I'm always yours
