

Where The Shadow Ends

BANNERS

Where the shadow ends

In the rising wind where the black waves call
To the bones of ships on the ocean floor
To your hopeless heart left on the shore
There's nothing left here anymore
There's a great unknown from you to me
And when your prayer's unheard and you don't believe
So put your faith in the devil and the deep blue sea
Put your trust in the light that you cannot see

There's a darkness up ahead
I will see you
Where the shadow ends
Cross the badlands to rise again
I will see you
Where the shadow ends
I will see you
Where the shadow ends

When you can't go round and you can't outrun
What lies behind, what stands in front
Through the broken gates of kingdom come
I will see you again when the night is dawn

There's a darkness up ahead
I will see you
Where the shadow ends
Cross the badlands to rise again
I will see you
Where the shadow ends
Where the shadow ends
I will see you
Where the shadow ends

I can see the lighthouse through the smoke
Everything is lost, I know
Underneath the roaring of the storm
I can hear the breaking of the dawn
Can you see the broken rays of light
Caught into the dead of night
And I know that I'll see you again

Where the shadow ends
Where the shadow ends
I will see you
Where the shadow ends

Can you see the broken rays of light
Calling through the dead of night
And I know that I'll see you again
Where the shadow ends
