Banshee

It's so easy for you to say
What you would do if you were me
I wish that I could run away

It's so easy for you to say
How you would feel if you were me
Pretending everything's OK

I don't understand envy
You say you wish that you were me
You wouldn't last a day
Your spine can't hold the weight

I'll never be the same
And I'm kinda glad that's the case
But I'll never be the same
It'll never be the same
Yet

It's so easy for you to say
What you would do if you were me
I wish that I could run away

It's so easy for you to say
How you would feel if you were me
Pretending everything's OK

There's a new voice in my head
She blames me for everything
Why did I give in?
Now I'll never be clean

I'll never be the same
And I'm kinda glad that's the case
But I'll never be the same
It'll never be the same yet

It's so easy for you to say
What you would do if you were me
I wish that I could run away

It's so easy for you to say
How you would feel if you were me
Pretending everything's OK

It's so easy for you to say
What you would do if you were me

I wish that I could run away
It's so easy for you to say
How you would feel if you were me
Pretending everything's OK
