

Desperate Hours

Barbie Almalbis

Thirty days
In a state of danger
Am I the adversary?
The animal coiled around me

I call my last-resort friends
Really only two of them
I want to hear your voice again
I want to hear your voice again

I can feel the rescuer
Lift my head above the water
I can hear the messenger
Finally the war is over

It's how you set me free
You walk me out of danger
Your love is all I need
In the desperate hours

Well I take a step
Rise from the rubble

A time for war
A time for trouble

I need my last-resort friends
To make sense of things again
I don't know if this was what you meant
To die again and again

I can feel the rescuer
Lift my head above the water
And I can hear the messenger
Finally the war is over

I can feel the rescuer
Lift my head above the water
And I can hear the messenger
Finally the war is over

It's how you set me free
You walk me out of danger
Your love is all I need (set me free)
In the desperate hours

It's how you set me free
You walk me out of danger
Your love is all I need (set me free)
In the desperate hours
