

If You Were Here Now

Barcelona

I know it's my fault, I know what to call it
When I'm tired and on the floor in this apartment
We're asleep alone, and that's nothing new
You know I tried to move on, if you can believe it
But the small town where we grew up doesn't make it easy
I see the same old things and I think about you

If you were here now
If you were here now
I would hold you close
Never let you go
I would never give you away
If you were here now
If you were here now

Hey baby, I had fun, I'll call you in the morning
I keep a message from you on my phone
And no one can erase it
See, something stirs when I hear your voice
Hey love, come back home, you know I wanna earn it
I know it's a tender heart, I didn't mean to hurt it
Say you're through with love, can I change your mind?

If you were here now
If you were here now
I would hold you close
Never let you go
I would never give you away
If you were here now
I would never give you away
If you were here now

If you were here now
There would be no more mistake
If you were here now
I would hold you close
Never let you go
I would never give you away
If you were here now
I would never give you away
If you were here now
If you were here now
If you were here now
