

Just Wait

Barenaked Ladies

Time was tight yesterday morning
Luggage piled on the floor
In the rush I forgot to say goodbye
And turned and tore out the door

If I could just wait five more minutes
And tell you how I feel
'Cause time could make love fade away
I wanna show my love for real

What's the use of medals and trophies
And pictures of us in the past?
What will it take right now to remember
The last time might be the last?

If I could just wait five more minutes
And tell you how I feel
'Cause time could make love fade away
I wanna show my love for real

I wanna make you eggs in the morning
My favourite style, that's what I'll do
I won't scramble my words, not this time
Wanna share this life with you
Share this life with you
Share this life

There's not a plane on the tarmac
That will take this moment away
If I'm late, I'm gonna change direction
And show that I'm here to stay, yeah

I'm gonna wait five more minutes
And tell you how I feel
'Cause I won't let this fade away
I wanna show my love for real
'Cause I won't let us fade away
I wanna show my love for real

For real, yep, for real
For real
