

Somewhere Far Away

Barren Cross

You're the One that I love, my hideaway
In the night I can find my heart a resting place
From the world that can steal my dreams away, so
I'm on my way to You

Take me to a higher ground, fly me across your highway
Lord, I want to feel the sound, fly me somewhere far away

Through the cracks in the mirror I had to gaze
On the road going nowhere I felt the pain
Realized that I needed a place inside for You
I'm on my way to you

Take me to a higher ground, fly me across Your highway
Lord, I want to feel the sound, fly me somewhere far away
Shake the stars all around, fly me somewhere far away
Lord, I want to feel the sound, fly me somewhere far away

Late in my room, so real it changed my life
I can feel You keeping my dreams alive
Give me wisdom bright as the sun and moon
Leave the light on, I'll see You soon
