Your band's doing better than my band
I'll go to your show, but I'm not gonna dance
You broke your wrist and got a cast on your hand, covered in peace signs
Your sister cut your hair but she gave you bangs, what'd she do that for?

You're semi precious, and kinda reckless
I think you're better on your own
I got your message, I left my necklace
I got your picture on my phone
Don't you think that you can do better?
Don't you think that you can do better?

Your car won't start, you need a ride
You work at eight, called me at nine
But I don't have your number in my phone anymore
I saw you walking on the side of the road alone

You're semi precious, and kinda reckless
I think you're better on your own
I got your message, I left my necklace
I got your picture on my phone
Don't you think that you can do better?
Don't you think that you can do better?

I'm giving you up, I'm giving you over
I'm giving you up, I'm giving you over

You're semi precious, and kinda reckless
I think you're better on your own
I got your message, I left my necklace
I got your picture on my phone
Don't you think that you can do better?
Don't you think that you can do better?
