

Death Takes a Holiday

Barry Adamson

I'm dancing on the leaves of the trees
Swinging on a sweet, sweet breeze
It's happening daily

The birds all sing baby, my-oh-my
The stars and the planets just a-float on by Yeah, I am a deity

And my words they'll fall with a smile
Laughter gonna ring for miles and miles
From here to Haiti

And it seems just like any other day
But I kicked Death's ass and I'm on his way
Now no need to save me

Hold me, baby
Stop me going crazy
Jump in the water of my sleepy dream
Of love forever
Hold me, baby
Stop me going crazy
Jump in the water when I say
Death takes a holiday

Now I've never seen the sky so blue
I never felt this close to you
It ain't no illusion

And those shadows leap, twist and shift
There's a blinding light and it's about to hit
That ain't no diffusion

So what's the deal with Happy Boy
Empty-headed and full of joy
For our amusement

Well, I kicked Death's ass and I'm on his way
Booked him a five-star holiday
There's your conclusion

Hold me, baby
Stop me going crazy
Jump in the water of my sleepy dream
Of love forever
Hold me, baby
Stop me going crazy
Jump in the water when I say
Death takes a holiday

I don't care what The Reaper say
Death can go take a holiday
January through til May
Sitting on the beach every goddamn day, yeah

I don't care what The Reaper say

January through til May
Singing this ditty all the goddamn day, so

Hold me, baby
Stop me going crazy
Hold me, baby
Stop me going crazy

I don't care what The Reaper say
Laying on the beach every goddamn day, yeah

I don't care what The Reaper say
I'm gonna take a holiday
