

Rollin' Like A Stone

Bart Crow

I can't face the day
So I think I'll lay here in my bed
Thoughts of you spin in my head
And they won't go
Go away

And all my time is lost
Sitting thinking I don't count the cost
'Cause you can't take from me my pain
I'm loving on a chain
I wish you'd go away

'Cause I can't hold you
Through the telephone
And I can't love you
To be left alone
So I don't [?]
In my misery
I'll just keep rollin'
I'm rollin' like a stone

But I'm without you now
I think I can say that I'm alright
I don't toss and turn through the night
No tears I cry
No tears I cry
And you are without me
Have you learned to love your life of solitude
You fill your cup with so much to do
But does it carry you
And does it carry you through

'Cause I can't hold you
Through the telephone
And I can't love you
To be left alone
So I don't [?]
In my misery
I'll just keep rollin'
I'm rollin' like a stone

I can't hold you
Through the telephone
And I can't love you
To be left alone
So I don't [?]
In my misery
I'll just keep rollin'
I'm rollin' like a stone
I'm rollin' like a stone
Like a stone
