I never thought it'd be this
I'm jumpin' out of your arms
I land and fall in a pit
Is this what they call the abyss?
I fought and clawed for an inch
Turned into miracle mile
I can recall when your lips
Used to contort into smiles
Bright as the sun that's drawn an eclipse
I haven't seen light in awhile
Hasn't been bright in awhile

Even days when you mad at me
You're the one that give me clarity
A testament to your character
On your birthday, you told me to donate money to charity
You are made of sincerity
And got cake like Sara Lee
You tether me, when my stress start buryin' me
You are the one to take care of me, I'm so gone
That conclusion foregone that confuse you
I'm weary of war zones, this tour long
I'm ready to go home, I'm ready for your bed
Can you comb my hair out so it don't dread?
I just want my head rubbed
I don't want a mixtape, I just want the best of
I just wanna get grub from our spot again
But do the odds work in our favor?
Stay down, escape town
Head low and face down
Like a kenneled greyhound
Doin' God's work in the devil's playground

Wish you picked up all my calls
I been goin' through withdrawals
Tryin' to take the edge off, I need Novacaine
I been tryin' to stand tall

I hope that you stand with me
You know all the greats fall
Shit is all the same
Hot as napalm
Next day, come the rain, gotta stay calm
Press play, put my heart in all of these songs
Display all of these wrongs
Yeah, a part of me is gone

And you are a gift in itself
A measure of wealth
The meanin' of selfless
I place you over the shelf
And higher than pedestals
Over the belt that straddle the waist on Orion's constellation
Observation of you
Here come the truth, I'm most overdue
Stuck over you, I've gone under
Livin' proof of God's wonders
