

New Coast

Basement

For me, it's too bright outside
If it is bright at all
The leaves are alive outside
But better when they fall
Living in a dream
Let's see where this leads
To please is my nature, but
Perhaps to a fault

I wanna know what it feels like
To be settled in the sun
I wanna know what it feels like
To be happy being told you belong

Grace, I knew her once
She helped me stand up tall
And pride, he's a funny friend
Who laughs before you fall
They're telling me that I should drink up every drop
What does it mean now to be free?

I wanna know what it feels like
To be settled in the sun
I wanna know what it feels like
To be happy being told you belong

Struggle hand on throat
Doing as you're told
I hope when you remember me
You'll forget who I was
They told me that I should drink up every drop
What does it mean now to be free?

I wanna know what it feels like
To be settled in the sun
I wanna know what it feels like
To be happy being told you belong

I wanna know what it feels like
To be settled in the sun
I wanna know what it feels like
To be happy being told you belong

I wanna know what it feels like
To be settled in the sun
