

Are You in Love?

Basia Bulat

First comes your fear, your laughter and tears
Then you shout when you need a name for your doubt
You know what's happening

When you feel free
Something small brings you back to your knees
Reminds you of secrets you keep
Now that it's happening

Could it be like your visions of destiny?
Golden sunset you saw on a silver screen?
Was it all just a trick played by chemistry?
When there's no other way out
One voice you hear in a crowd
Honey, now you, now you're in love

Who disappears? And who do you want to be found?
You go where the music is loud
Do you want a theory or thief?
Do you dream on a night with no sleep?
Could somebody make you believe that it was real?

Could it be like your visions of destiny?
Golden sunset you saw on a silver screen?
Was it all just a trick played by chemistry?
When there's no other way out
One voice you hear in a crowd
Honey, now you, now you're in love

Fight in electric confusion
Laugh away all of your rules
What would you do if you were in love?

Are you in love? Are you?
Oh what would you do if you were in love?

First comes your fear
Your laughter and tears
Then you shout
The music goes 'one, two, three' when it happens

Oh and somehow you knew
If you let go of your ruse
If you believe it, you go back to childhood mystery
Wearing it like your mother's jewelry
Sweetness on earth
Did it still make a fool of me?
When there's no other way out
One voice you hear in a crowd
Oh honey, now you, now you're in love

Laugh away all of your rules, babe
Dance all night long, but why can't you tell the truth
If you're in love?
When the music's gone soon
And there's nothing you can do
Do you ever know the truth?

Are you in love when you're in love?
Are you in love when you're in love?
