

Where's Your Pride

Basia

Wake up, where's your pride?
Leave the past behind
Just forget and don't look back
Don't look back
Don't let anyone get you down
Wake up, boy, where is your pride?

Wake up, where's your pride?
Time's not on your side
It's getting late, don't waste your time
Don't waste time
You know best - you're good and kind
Wake up, girl, where is your pride?

Did we get stuck, or did we get lazy
Sleepwalking scared, hoping something will change
But you know that it won't, so we must be crazy
To give up on everything we've always wanted
Because after all, we could rock, we could roll
We could do anything
We could conquer the world
If we open our eyes - we might see clearly
How good our life could be

Wake up, where's your pride?
Leave the past behind
Just forget and don't look back
Don't look back
Don't let anyone get you down
Wake up, boy, where is your pride
But we shut our eyes and only imagine
How good our life could be

If we open our eyes - we might see clearly
How good our life could be
