

Mountains

Bat for Lashes

You know I couldn't see which way to turn
Fell down at the floor at your feet, begged you let through
Told you I'm just too afraid to stay here in your arms
Drop me off the edge of this cliff
And you can watch me crash down

We both know it's not an easy ride
When It goes up in smoke
I just want to hide
Can we make it right
I get worse at the start
Sing to me in the dark
Sing to me in the dark
Sing to me in the dark
Sing to me in the dark

So you turn to the mountain
She started to sing soft
Notice in the midnight air
Latch your body and soul to the fog
A hundred forks in the road
A hundred knives in my heart
He said go sing to the lovers
Don't ever look over your shoulders

We both know it's not an easy ride
When It goes up in smoke
I just want to hide
Can we make it right
I get worse at the start
Sing to me in the dark
Sing to me in the dark
Sing to me in the dark
Sing to me in the dark
Sing to me in the dark
Sing to me in the dark
Sing to me in the dark
Sing to me in the dark

We both know it's not an easy ride
When It goes up in smoke
I just want to hide
Can we make it right
I get worse at the start
Sing to me in the dark
Sing to me in the dark
Sing to me in the dark
Sing to me in the dark
