

Pissed off and hungry I stood pacing on my bedroom floor
Imagining coyotes clawing at your bedroom door
I hear them howl it reverberates through city streets
Jasper's wildlife never really let me sleep
Oh no, oh no

I guess I never really knew how cold this house could get
Without the alcohol and people helping me forget
I'm so guilty man I stayed in bed like that whole week
Jasper's wildlife never really let me sleep

How could you all see this coming
But still be so unprepared?
Honestly I felt nothing but that all changed when I walked up t hose hallway stairs
I saw you crying, father, bury your face into your sheets
Since I've been spying on you, father, it's ok to confide in me

I guess I never really knew how cold this house could get
Without the alcohol and people helping me forget
I'm so guilty man I stayed in bed like that whole week
Jasper's wildlife never really let me sleep

I guess I never really knew how cold this house could get
Without the alcohol and people helping me forget
I'm so guilty man I stayed in bed like that whole week
Jasper's wildlife never really let me sleep

I guess I never really knew how cold this house could get
Without the alcohol and people helping me forget
I'm so guilty man I stayed in bed like that whole week
Jasper's wildlife never really let me sleep
