

Dancing Like An Idiot

Bayside

Just leave me here alone to breath it in
The stench up on the stage was foul and it got me wondering
How can't you be embraced while you do the things you do
You're basically One Direction if they all had throat tattoos

You, you're only gonna let them down
But you pull the wool over their eyes somehow
And if you should start feeling sick when you take a look around
Would you recognize the part you played in it?

Well I assure you Mr. Listener it really is that bad
These aren't harmless criminals this isn't just a fad
'Cause kid there's consequences to what we say and what we do
While you're dancing like an idiot they're looking up to you

Take it from me, your rebel with a cause, we'll be here when you u get old
Can't you see the future slowly getting neutered?
How can people call this art?
The crowds go la la la la la, they perpetuate the problems
Who can even tell them apart?

Would you recognize the part you played in it?
