

You've Already Been

Bayside

Let's say, that you're on a plane
It's going down fast
And you had time to think about
Your life and times
And where you'll end up

They say there's a place
You worry what it might be like
And scream 'cause you're scared

What if I swore to God?
Would you believe me then?
Isn't there something to be said about
Brand name recognition

Let's say, your plane didn't crash
And you should survive
Would g-g-go back to your selfish ways
And deny this was divine?

They say there's a place
You worry what it might be like
And scream 'cause you're scared

What if I swore to God?
Would you believe me then?
Isn't there something to be said about
Brand name recognition

What can I say?
We ate the apple anyway
And you'll wonder when you'll get there
When you've already been

Well let's say that this happens again
This time you were rotated back
Believe what ever's right for you
Don't doubt your worth
Stay in command

What if I swore to God?
Would you believe me then?
Isn't there something to be said about
Brand name recognition

What can I say?
We ate the apple anyway
And you'll wonder when you'll get there
When you've already been
When you've already been
