We had no choice, we did the best we could
Yesterday, we got covered in mud
Cry a million times, embrace the tears
We both shared the same dream

Insecurity and failure gave us these scars
So we can be proud of where we stand
I grab your hand as you awkwardly run
Connecting us to tomorrow

Our dreams shine down on us
Waiting for the day we shine just as glorious
If "a bit more" seems too far
Remember how it was at the start
For us, today is a miracle

No matter how stubborn the gods are
None of them can deny
We were meant to be special
A field of dreams awaits
If "a bit more" seems too far
Remember how it was at the start
Someday we'll call today a miracle

We had no choice, we did the best we could
And that's how we met right here
Even if frustration fogs up the future
Your smile can wipe away the tears
Overlapping voices connecting memories
Show me the answer to that pain
Desperately sweating and you're laughing
I want to see what comes next

Our dreams shine down on us
Waiting for the day we shine just as glorious
If "a bit more" seems too far
Remember how it was at the start
For us, today is a miracle

Sweat and tears stain the ground
We aimed for the sun
As it laughed high above those days
Such a beautiful, muddy dress
Made from setbacks and defeat
Made from setbacks and defeat
Fireworks of rivalry light up the sky
It's hard to smile every day
But no one's laughing as you try
Yesterday, still so full of life, says to me now
"Don't make any regrets"
That's why, forever—

Our dreams shine down on us
Waiting for the day we shine just as glorious
If "a bit more" seems too far
Remember how it was at the start
For us, today is a miracle

No matter how stubborn the gods are

None of them can deny
We were meant to be special
A field of dreams awaits
If "a bit more" seems too far
Remember how it was at the start
Someday we'll call today a miracle
