

April

Beach Bunny

April showers, rain starts falling
I wish that you would pick up when you know I'm calling
It's been another year
Wishing you were here

Sometimes I just want somebody
Someone who reminds me that they'll always love me
Sick of counting tears
Wishing you were here

I wanna be everything you wanted
But often times, I just get forgotten
I'm all alone

Are you out there? I'm still here
I wish that when I said your name you would appear
Sitting next to me
Now we're memories

Sometimes I just want somebody
Someone who reminds me that they'll always love me
Sick of counting tears
Wishing you were here

I wanna be everything you wanted
But often times, I just get forgotten

Are you out there somewhere?
What are you up to?
Have you changed your number?
I've been trying to call you
Since April and now it's October
I'm not overthinking
But I think about you a lot
And lately I am just an afterthought

Where did you go?
Where did you go?
