

Chasm

Beach Bunny

Tell me all the reasons I get stuck in my head
Never leave a pause for breathing
Tell me all the reasons why I'm stuck in bed
Never pick a plan worth leaving

In the chasm, crawling out like it's a fight
An animal becoming a new breed of life

Oh, am I enough?
The past is a promise to make me tough
Future is a chasm that I'll crawl out from
Presence is the essence of what I'll become

Is it dangerous
To give your heart to ones you trust?
On the countdown to combust
I'm caving in or blowing up

Tell me all the reasons I can't better myself
I can write my own prescription
Tell me all the reasons I can't ask for help
Unless it's by my fruition

In the chasm, crawling out like it's a fight
An animal becoming a new breed of life

Oh, am I enough?
The past is a promise to make me tough
Future is a chasm that I'll crawl out from
Presence is the essence of what I'll become

Is it dangerous
To give your heart to ones you trust?
On the countdown to combust
I'm caving in or blowing up

I'm in the chasm, crawling out like it's a fight
An animal becoming a new breed of life

And I'll evolve or I'll dissolve, it's my design
You got your path, and I'm still carving out what's mine

Oh, am I enough?
The past is a promise to make me tough
Future is a chasm that I'll crawl out from
Presence is the essence of what I'll become

Is it dangerous
To give your heart to ones you trust?
On the countdown to combust
I'm caving in or blowing up

I'm in the chasm, crawling out like it's a fight
An animal becoming a new breed of life
