

Eventually

Beach Bunny

Took a deep breath from the chest, but shallow execution
Picked through the cracks in my mind tryna find a solution
I tried to cry, but I laughed 'cause my brain's acting stupid
Panic attack there's a hand on my neck, I can't move it
I can't move it

The faster I run from the problem
The harder I fall
It all comes out eventually
It all comes out eventually

But you're always there in my mind, in my hair when I lose it
Teaching my feet how to walk properly through the movement
Sometimes it's a while till I learn how to smile but you're patient
Panic attack, there's a weight on my back, but you take it
But you take it

The faster I run from the problem
The harder I fall
It all comes out eventually
It all comes out eventually
It all comes out eventually
