

Waves

Beach Bunny

I, didn't know, 'goodbye' meant 'hello'
You'd be right there, you'd be right there
And I, didn't know, when you'd up and go
You'd be right back, you'd be right back

Your mind was the tide, pulling me under
There's chlorine in my eyes, couldn't see under the water
Though I have cried, pools of watercolor
These tears have dried, but I still remember your face

When there was waves and waves and waves of you
There was waves and waves and waves and waves of you
And there was waves and waves and waves and waves of you
And there was waves and waves and waves and waves and waves of you

I didn't know, couldn't let it go
You'd be right there, you'd be right there
I didn't know, when you're feeling low
You'd be right back, You'd be right back

Your mind was the tide, pulling me under
There's chlorine in my eyes, couldn't see under the water
Though I have cried, pools of watercolor
These tears have dried, but I still remember your face

When there was waves and waves and waves of you
There was waves and waves and waves and waves of you
And there was waves and waves and waves and waves of you
And there was waves and waves and waves and waves and waves of
you

When there was waves and waves and waves of you
There was waves and waves and waves and waves of you
And there was waves and waves and waves and waves of you
And there was waves and waves and waves and waves and waves of
you

(Waves of you)

(Waves of you)