

Paranormal Activity

Beach Weather

Hey, starry eyes, will you paint the sky for me?
Before the rain comes down and washes you away
Alive in real time
It's something I can't fake

I feel so helpless, I can't reach the bottom
My thoughts intrusive, I can't seem to stop them
There's paranormal activity in my head, my head again
Paranormal activity in my head, my head, my head
My head, my head, my head again

I remember waking up in a cold sweat
Blurry eyes from mourning my last cigarette
And I feel like it all makes sense
But I'm all choked up
Here I am, crying at my funeral again

Swarm in your love, swarm in your love, swarm in your love
Swallow me up, swallow me up, swallow me up

I feel so helpless, I can't reach the bottom
My thoughts intrusive, I can't seem to stop them
There's paranormal activity in my head, my head again
Paranormal activity in my head, my head, my head
My head, my head, my head again

I feel so helpless, I can't reach the bottom
My thoughts intrusive, I can't seem to stop them
There's paranormal activity in my head, my head again
Paranormal activity in my head, my head, my head
My head, my head, my head
My head, my head, my head
My head, my head, my head
My head, my head, my head
My head, my head, my head
My head, my head again
