

All The Wrong Places

Bear's Den

I will bury all of my memories of you
I won't let time take away all of them too
Don't say I didn't warn you
Or that I didn't try to stop you

In all the wrong places
You would cry while we were laughing
Rolling around on the floor
You'd look for help from those that only wanna see you fall
You would lie because the truth would hurt us all
And I wish I didn't need you

Place your hands upon the wheel and drive
Forget about the armies that have tried to conquer your mind
Don't let them pull you over
Don't look back over your shoulder

In all the wrong places
You would cry while we were laughing
Rolling around on the floor
You'd look for help from those that only wanna see you fall
You would lie because the truth would hurt us all

If I need you
I know where I can find you
Out there in the deepest blue
Where I swear I can still reach you
In the place where all our shame
Doesn't know our names
Beyond our whispers in the dark
And all the shadows that walk beside you
I don't need to ask
I know where I can find you

In all the wrong places
You would cry while we were laughing
Rolling around on the floor
You'd look for help from those that only wanna see you fall
You would lie because the truth would hurt us all
If I need you
If I really need you
I know exactly where I can find you
