

Evangeline

Bear's Den

With your mother's milk still spilling from your mouth
You can go alone, go alone
But how long can you go without
If you wanna go alone then go alone
Where no one can ever let you down
No one can ever steal your crown
No one can ever let you down
If you wanna go alone then go alone
No one can ever hurt you now

It's not who you are, it's what you did
There's a difference but you let it stick
It's in your bloodline and it's running thick
I won't forget it, Evangeline

With your father's pride still waiting to be shown
You can go alone, go alone
But you never let yourself ever doubt
If you wanna go alone, then go alone
Forego the crucible for the crutch that clouds
You're always looking for a new way out
You're always searching for what can't be found
If you wanna go alone then go alone
We're not always gonna be around

It's not who you are, it's what you did
There's a difference but you let it stick
It's in your bloodline and it's running thick
I won't forget it, Evangeline

I won't forget it Evangeline
I won't forget it Evangeline
I won't forget it Evangeline
I won't forget it Evangeline
I won't forget it Evangeline
I won't forget it Evangeline
