

Isaac are you listening
I watched it from afar
I watched as the clouds began to part

Isaac can you see my now I've known you all my life and I worship the ground you walk upon

Isaac will you never learn that a father's love must be earned or your mother need not learn

Isaac I have never seen you look so afraid with your head pressed so hard against the stone

You look so alone

I'm going to give all my love to you
I'm going to give all my love to you
I'm going to give all my love to you
I'm going to give all my love to you

Isaac are you listening
I watched it from afar
as your your life fell apart

Isaac will you never learn
that a father's love must be earned
or your mother need not learn how to love you

I'm going to give all my love to you
I'm going to give all my love to you
I'm going to give all my love to you
I'm going to give all my love to you

I'm going to give all my love to you
I'm going to give all my love to you
I'm going to give all my love to you
I'm going to give all my love to you
