So Damn Wrong

Bearings

Could I ever love you
The way that you love me?
Do you love me?
Drinking in your bedroom
Just because you're lonely
Are you lonely?

I'm out here on my own
Feels like I'm never home
Just thought I'd call you up
Just thought I'd let you know
I think that I can love you
The way that you love me
Do you love me?

When we both fall apart
I'll be sleeping alone
Coming straight for the heart
You got me so damn wrong
Every minute that you spend
Running circles in my head
Got the feeling that you're leaving empty space in my bed
Oh, we both know
You got me so damn wrong

Is this really what you want now?
Is this really how it goes down?
We were lovers in a ghost town
Now we're lost in the crowd, breaking me down
I'm looking for you, wherever you are
Just tell me the truth, was I ever enough?

When we both fall apart
I'll be sleeping alone
Coming straight for the heart
You got me so damn wrong
Every minute that you spend
Running circles in my head
Got the feeling that you're leaving empty space in my bed
Oh, we both know
You got me so damn wrong

And every minute that you spend
Running circles in my head
Oh, we both know
Got the feeling that you're leaving empty space in my bed
Oh, we both know

When we both fall apart
I'll be sleeping alone
Coming straight for the heart
You got me so damn wrong
Every minute that you spend
Running circles in my head
Got the feeling that you're leaving empty space in my bed
Oh, we both know
You got me so damn wrong

And every minute that you spend
Running circles in my head
Oh, we both know
Got the feeling that you're leaving empty space in my bed
Oh, we both know
