

Less Than Hello

Bears In Trees

I learned regret in the debt of last time
When the thought of your name could only ride down my spine
Into a slow dance, fallout of that rogue glance
Please tell me we're in the wrong place

Could we collapse in the street, as we dissect you and me?
Just to perhaps relapse on that least most important thing

She pulled away and I need to go
We didn't get to say more than that less than hello
I hope you know that I care
If I should go, then that's fair
Please tell me we're in the wrong place
Please tell me we're in the wrong place

Could we collapse in the street, as we dissect you and me?
Just to perhaps relapse on that least most important thing

Well, people like us can't have bad weekends
'Cause we don't know if they'll stop
And people like us are scared of the future
'Cause we don't know if we'll last that long
And people like us, we like sad movies
'Cause we see ourselves in them
And people like us, people like us can't have bad weekends

Could we collapse in the street, as we dissect you and me?
Just to perhaps relapse on that least most important thing

Could we collapse in the street, as we dissect you and me?
Just to perhaps relapse on that least most important thing

Could we collapse in the street, as we dissect you and me?
Just to perhaps relapse on that least most important thing
