

Your Favourite Coat

Bears In Trees

Could everyone just be quiet for a second?
You're getting me all detached from the present
Now I'm focusing on what I can't control
While you talk on what you don't know
Could everyone just be quiet for a second?

Be happy later, this relentless narrator's doing overtime behind my eyes
Telling me I must actualise make something greater of my life
I've been trying so hard to love it all
But now I'm carving words into a bathroom stall
Could everyone just shut the fuck up for a second?!

As we make paper aeroplanes
Out of all your broken hearts
Render all our flaws transparent
Let your heartache turn to rust
As we make paper aeroplanes
Out of all your broken hearts
Render all our flaws transparent
Let your headache turn to dust

You call me up, you've lost your phone
Your dignity, your favourite coat
And we both know, hope's a fever dream
Resilience-tinged saccharine

But we'll raid every dumpster
We will knock on every door
We know, they'll never answer
We're just tryna keep warm

So we'll raid every dumpster
We will knock on every door
We know, they'll never answer
We're just tryna keep warm

As we make paper aeroplanes
Out of all your broken hearts
Render all our flaws transparent
Let your heartache turn to rust
As we make paper aeroplanes
Out of all your broken hearts
Render all our flaws transparent
Let your headache turn to dust
