

Fighting Back

Beartooth

Let's go

What I want and what I need are completely different things
My desire's always hidden up my sleeve
I don't know why I believe it's so important what you think
All your uninformed opinions still control my self esteem

Causing pain became the latest trend
All the aftereffects, they might be permanent
I won't let you in my head again
Try to tear me apart
I'll just keep fighting back

When in doubt, push it down
I keep hiding in the sound
Telling lies to try and keep my friends around
I can't think, I can't speak
I've been losing everything
I keep chasing better feelings
I keep chasing a release

Causing pain became the latest trend
All the aftereffects, they might be permanent
I won't let you in my head again
Try to tear me apart
I'll just keep fighting back

I can't control how it ends, only how I react
Try to tear me apart
I'll just keep fighting back
You just try to make me small
You keep tearing down the wall
Now I know I never needed you at all
You just try to make me small
You keep tearing down the wall
Now I know I never needed you at all

Causing pain became the latest trend
All the aftereffects, they might be permanent
I won't let you in my head again
Try to tear me apart
I'll just keep fighting back

Oh
I'll just keep fighting back
Try to tear me apart
I'll just keep fighting back
