The Answer

Beartooth

Lie to me, say you have the answer
Lie to me, say you have the answer
Lie to me, say you have the answer
Lie to me, say you have the answer

I've been staring in the eyes of my future self
Conversations in the mirror with somebody else
Only looking for the flaws I'm holding
Taking shots and I keep reloading

Shine a light, help me find myself

Pulling away from my emotions now
Feeling a change in my devotion now
I feel like I'm crumbling under the pressure
Just lie to me, say you have the answer

I've been burning all the books that created me
Choosing silence to escape my insecurity
But the quiet only makes me crazy
It's a pattern and it's never changing

Shine a light, help me find myself

Pulling away from my emotions now
Feeling a change in my devotion now
I feel like I'm crumbling under the pressure
Just lie to me, say you have the answer

There's a spark in the dark
It's all that I can see
Give me everything you got
Try to take it from me

Pulling away from my emotions now
Pulling away from my emotions now

Pulling away from my emotions now
Feeling a change in my devotion now
I feel like I'm crumbling under the pressure
Just lie to me, say you have the answer

I'm crumbling under the pressure (I'm crumbling, I'm crumbling)
(I'm crumbling under the pressure)
I'm crumbling under the pressure (I'm crumbling, I'm crumbling)
(I'm crumbling under the pressure)

I'm crumbling, I'm crumbling
I'm crumbling under the pressure
I'm crumbling, I'm crumbling
I'm crumbling under the pressure
