Beatsteaks

I see the world - it's rotten now
Cause everyone believes the waves
All things are wrong - nothing is right
And all the shapes are rumbling in their caves

You can't change the world, but you change yourself
You better live your life before you're dead
You can't change the world, but you change yourself
You better live your life before you're dead

The might makes blind to everyone
Corruption is reality
You are the enemy number one
If you don't want conformity

You can't change the world, but you change yourself
You better live your life before you're dead
You can't change the world, but you change yourself
You better live your life before you're dead

You can't change the world, but you change yourself
You better live your life before you're dead
You can't change the world, but you change yourself
You better live your life before you're dead
